To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Joel Christensen for any opportunity he pursues. Joel was an integral part of our team at Maiden Voyage Software for over a year, and his impact was significant both professionally and personally.

During his time with us, Joel demonstrated remarkable adaptability and proficiency in learning our full-stack development stack, which he did not have experience with before starting in his position with us. He was able to get up to speed and contribute to projects within his first week with us. He tackled a diverse set of projects, ranging from creating custom sales dashboards and mobile applications to seamlessly integrating APIs and managing AWS infrastructure. Joel's technical skills and resourcefulness consistently delivered results that met and exceeded our clients' expectations.

However, what truly set Joel apart was his exceptional communication skills and collaborative nature. He actively engaged in team discussions, asked questions in a team setting, and provided valuable insights to ensure clarity and drive project success. Joel was a reliable and active participant in sprint meetings and retrospectives, contributing ideas and solutions that contributed to the continuous improvement of our processes and outcomes.

Beyond his professional abilities, Joel's friendly and approachable demeanor made him a great colleague in our team. He was always willing to go the extra mile to support his coworkers and was often the first to answer a team member's request for help debugging issues.

Joel is someone you want on your team. He's good at what he does, easy to work with, and always willing to help out. I'm sure he'll bring the same positive energy and skills to any new role he takes on.

Feel free to get in touch if you need more info about Joel's time with us. Thank you for considering him.

Sincerely,

Jaden Taylor
